

Trinity is a nice holy holiday. It is celebrated on the fiftieth day after Easter. This religious holiday is famous for its traditions. The beautiful summertime festival is observed in every part of our country according to its own customs.

Nowadays in all cities and villages people have funny games, folk dancing around the most beautiful birch and sacred singing.

All churches and cathedrals are decorated with birch branches, summer flowers and grass. It symbolizes the life, happiness and thanks God for human revival.

Many girls make garlands from birch branches and flowers and throw them into the river. They want to know about their marriage. Some people decorate the birches with colourful ribbons and guess their fortune.

People don't work on this day because they consider Trinity is a birthday of the land. Children and their parents try to have a rest in the open air.
